Manitoba Colonist: "Among the items of arrivals of settlers in January was one of a party of 21 immigrants from Scotland, bound for Wetaskiwin, near Edmonton."

PETITIONS have been forwarded recently for the opening of new post offices at the Sturgeon Mill, Horse Hill and Stony Plain. Morinville, P. O., north of St. Albert was opened a couple of weeks ago.

P. T. FLYNN, of St. Albert, was kicked in the face by a horse, while delivering grain yesterday at South Edmonton. Had he been an inch closer to the horse he would have been badly injured, as it was only a few pieces of skin were knocked off.

THE Edith Ross concert company, of Scotland, is touring in Manitoba, and will visit the Territories. This is said to be a first class company, and should they visit Edmonton would be sure of a full house, from the enthusiastic Scotchmen of Edmonton and lovers of music generally.

THE train which was sent from Regina on Saturday, February 18th with a rotary snow plow to clear the track of the Regina & Long lake road to Prince Albert reached that place on Monday, bringing the first mail that had been received since January 28th. The passenger train will leave Regina on Friday as usual.

FREE PRESS: "S. Minaker, of Headingly, who has been doing special emigration work in Pembina county, North Dakota, was in the city yesterday. He states that one hundred people will leave Pembina county this spring for the Northwest Territories, and all will settle in the Beaver lake (Edmonton) district. Mr. Minaker has already located a large number of settlers in that district, and they are all highly satisfied with the conditions of things there, not one of them having yet expressed dissatisfaction with the country or prospects."

REGINA LEADER: A large circle of friends will regret to learn of the serious illness of Mr. W. Anderson, agency clerk at Muscowpetung's. So dangerous was his condition considered yesterday that his two sons, who reside in Regina, were telegraphed for. They left for the rescue last night. Mr. Anderson is well known at Edmonton, having been Indian agent here for a number of years.

JAS. McDONALD, real estate agent has caused to be draughted and lithographed at his own expense a number of complete maps of the town of Edmonton, the only lithographed map of the town that has yet been published. A limited number will be sold. N. G. Playter, draughtsman. The Sabiston company of Montreal lithographers. This map supplies a long felt want, and is most creditable to Mr. McDonald's enterprise.

AGRICULTURISTS will require to be on their guard as a new and dangerous form of chattel mortgage has been prepared by some firms, says an exchange, and will be presented to debtors for signature. As the objectionable clauses are introduced in that portion of the printed form which is seldom read over, inexperienced men may be under the impression that they are only giving a mortgage on one or two articles or animals when, in reality, they are securing to the creditor in addition "all and singular, the crops of grain, grass and hay and all other crops whatsoever, now possessed or to be grown in the future," all of which crops are to be held as security for the payment in full of the debt and interest.

THE first wedding in the South Edmonton church took place on Tuesday evening last. The parties were Robert A. Kell, miller for the Edmonton Milling company, and Miss Isabella J. Scott. The bride arrived from the east on Monday's train. Rev. D. McQueen performed the service. There was a large attendance of friends and well wishers of the happy couple. After the ceremony a wedding party was given in the Ontario house at which the occasion was duly honored. A number of handsome wedding presents were received, amongst others a large bible is to be presented to the bride as being the first to be married in the new church.

THE Regina Leader mentions the promotion of Sgt. Major R. Belcher to the rank of inspector in the N. W. mounted police. Insp. Belcher has been connected with the police force ever since it was organized in 1874, except for about a year and a half when he was farming at Fort Saskatchewan. On rejoining the police in 1884 he became regimental Sgt. Major, which position he held until his recent promotion, his fitness for which has long been recognized, and was only deferred because the force could ill spare such an efficient regimental sgt. major. Insp. Belcher is a brother of corporal H. Belcher, of Fort Saskatchewan and of Staff Sgt. P. H. Belcher of Lethbridge. Sgt. Major Stewart, of Macleod, will take the position of regimental Sgt. Major at Regina.

At the annual meeting of the Edmonton Presbyterian church held in January the Presbytery of Calgary was petitioned to moderate in a call. The Presbytery has appointed next Tuesday as the night on which to hold the meeting of the congregation for the purpose of completing arrangements. The Rev. John Furnie representing the Presbytery will arrive on Monday's train to conduct the meeting. The call is necessitated by the fact the pastor Rev. D. G. McQueen has never been regularly called by the congregation, having been appointed by the general missionary committee of the church. The meeting is for the purpose of calling him to the charge of the congregation in regular form, as Edmonton is not a mission station, but a duly organized congregation, and therefore entitled to select their own minister.

At the council meeting last night it was decided to telegraph to Ottawa asking what amount had been placed in the supplementary estimates for a bridge at Edmonton. A petition was forwarded to the postmaster general asking that the name of Edmonton, P. O., Ontario, be changed, to avoid inconvenience now arising. The fire water and light committee reported that they had caused the clerk to write for prices for a steam fire engine complete. Also that chimneys be built of brick or stone. Also that Jas. McDonald be appointed inspector of chimneys. Also that burning coal slack be removed. A draft agreement regarding the ferries was referred back to the committee on licenses for amendment. A number of accounts were passed. There were four applications for the position of night watchman. Full report next issue.

WHEN W. Cust of St. Albert rounded up his cattle last fall to yard and stable them for the winter he was fourteen head short. About two weeks ago after the cold snap a cow and a she of the missing ones appeared at the sheds one morning looking for admission. Their tracks were followed back and five head more of the missing band were found in a sort of hollow or coulee in the woods, where they had yarded like moose all winter. The snow was tramped down and everything eatable eaten off for a space of about seven acres, but the cattle were still in fair condition. The cattle had doubtless gone there in the fall, attracted probably by the special greenness of the herbage, and finding themselves comfortable did not attempt to make way through the snow as it became gradually deeper. Until at last when the feed became exhausted, and the snow softened with the thaw, the cow, knowing the way to the sheds, made a break for them. The remaining seven head are still unheard from, but Mr. Cust now has hopes of finding them all right yet.

FRANK OLIVER, — PROPRIETOR.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, FEBRUARY 23, 1893.

The Free Press in an article on the oil duty says that the specific duty still levied of 7 1-5 cents per gallon is equal to an import duty of 200 per cent. Coal oil in Boston and other eastern American cities sells for twelve cents per imperial gallon; it is twenty-eight cents in Montreal and Toronto, and forty cents in Winnipeg. Throughout the province and the Territories it sells for forty-five and fifty cents. This is paying through the nose with a vengeance, in order to foster the "infant" oil industry of Lambton. That industry has been in its infant state since 1867, or during a period of twenty-five years and more.

Speaking of the reduction of duties on binder twine to 12 1/2 per cent, E. N. Fulton, one of the directors of the Consumers' Cordage company, said: "It will have no effect whatever. The company being closely identified with the similar organizations in the States, which naturally control the twine business of America, cannot be seriously affected even if the duties were entirely abolished. Indeed, it is questionable whether the latter course would not be preferable, as far as the consumers' company is concerned, as I believe it would result in large earnings for our company." It would be interesting to know how many protected "home" industries are in the position of this interesting twine monopoly, the profits on which go to the United States. At the same time the legal representatives of the twine company say that unless the duty is replaced they will shut down their mills and import their twine from the States. They are interviewing the government with a view to averting this fearful calamity.

Thirty-seven Northwest lunatics are confined in the Manitoba penitentiary. The expense of keeping them there is $13,000, and last year the expenses of removal were $2,500. The Regina Standard thinks this is sufficient reason for the establishment of a lunatic asylum in the Territories, at Regina. If lunatics from the Northwest who are sent to Manitoba were received into a proper asylum where they would be certain to receive the best treatment, medical and otherwise, that could be furnished, it would be a waste of public money to establish a Territorial asylum. But when lunatics from the Territories receive only the accommodation of a penitentiary when taken to Manitoba, a territorial asylum is a necessity and should be provided without delay. With all due respect to the Standard and to Regina, however, the BULLETIN begs to say that that is not a proper location for any such building. Just as the Dominion government selected Stony Mountain for the site of provincial penitentiary in preference to Winnipeg on account of the unhealthy location of the city, a site other than Regina should be chosen for any such institution. Some place where the water would be abundant and good and the scenery attractive. Say on the banks of the Qu'Appelle or the Bow rivers.

At a farmers meeting held recently at Moose Jaw, a report of which appears in the Moose Jaw Times, Angus McKay, manager of the Indian Head experimental farm gave an address containing a large amount of valuable information based upon experiments made at the farm. As to red fife wheat he stated that although other varieties might ripen earlier and yield better red fife was the best wheat to withstand spring frosts. Experiments with different kinds of fodder showed that the best was a mixture of two rows barley and oats cut green and cured as hay. An experiment in feeding cattle with wheat as compared with barley showed that for the first month wheat caused the animal to gain more rapidly but afterwards it lost, while the animal fed on barley gained steadily. An experiment in feeding pigs on frozen wheat worth 30 cents a bushel showed that in moderate weather such wheat gave an equivalent in pork of 75 cents per bushel, but in very cold weather the equivalent was only 42 cents per bushel. Mr. McKay gave a full and interesting description of a successful method of pitting roots. The pits were made in the fields. The roots were first covered four inches deep with straw. A layer of earth was then put on, and over this another four inches of straw. The whole was then covered with earth. The pit was left in that shape until after the first frost, when two layers more were put on. When the pits were opened no sign of frost or heating was to be found and the roots were in splendid condition. He spoke of the danger of weeds, mentioning particularly the tumble weed and a species of wild mustard that was spreading rapidly in Eastern Assiniboia. He concluded his address by advising farmers to follow mixed farming and not devote their energies to exclusive wheat growing.

The Regina Standard alluding to C. P. R. president Van Horne's denunciation of the charter mongers at Ottawa says that Van is throwing missiles dangerously near the glass house of his own company.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado at present of Santa Rosa, California has been "called" by Westminster Presbyterian church of Winnipeg. Rev. Mr. Pitblado was in charge of St. Andrew's congregation of Winnipeg a number of years ago.

Free Press: The chattels of a farmer near Gladstone were sold a few days ago by the sheriff to satisfy a claim for a mower purchased in 1884. The amount of the levy was $144.25 and the cost of holding the sale was $222.98.

Free Press, February 18: "A party of 28 English immigrants arrived from the east yesterday. Several went west to Calgary on the afternoon train and two families remained in Winnipeg intending to take up land in Southern Manitoba.

Free Press: "The Canadian oil refiners are jubilant over the government's decision on the oil question," says a press dispatch. And well they may be; but unfortunately the Canadian oil consumers are not particularly hilarious on account of it, and they outnumber the others about a million to one.

Mr. Cleveland has officially announced the names of four members of his cabinet. They are Walter Q. Gresham, of Illinois, secretary of state; John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, secretary of finance; Daniel S. Lamont, of New York, secretary of war; Wilson S. Bissel, of Buffalo, postmaster general.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent says: A pretty well defined rumor was current this evening that the French members have determined upon a system of obstruction to the progress of the estimates until Sir John Thompson shall declare the exact position of the government upon the Manitoba school question. Their course is said to be well mapped out and considerable trouble is expected to arise therefrom.

Free Press: Mr. Alex. Stuart, who has charge of the Mainland Cattle company's flock of about 8,000 sheep at Rosebud, Alberta, writes to the effect that very few died through the recent cold snap when the thermometer ranged from 25 to 50 degrees below zero. Should the cold weather continue there would likely be a few more deaths in the flock, but the company's flocks had a two months' supply of hay, which would likely see them through till grass comes. No mention is made of the surrounding flocks, but it is reported that the sheep on the Canadian agricultural and colonization company's lands suffered very heavily.

A deputation from Western Ontario, representing the patrons of industry, waited on the premier and minister of finance at Ottawa. The visitors said the organization possessed a membership of over one hundred and fifty thousand farmers in the Northwest and Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and in its name demanded a removal of the duties on coal oil, binder twine, corn and wire fencing. The delegates pointed out that they now had a binder twine factory in operation and did not fear free trade competition. They also asked that it be made a criminal offence for any body of men to combine to raise prices unduly.

BRICK! BRICK! YES BRICK.

Having attained the reputation of making the best brick in the Territories I will make it a point to continue to lead in that line; while thanking the building community of Edmonton and vicinity for the kind patronage in the past would invite their inspection of my work and prices in the future. Do not be deluded by parties who claim to make a pressed brick with a sand stock machine, or produce them in May in this country; it cannot be done. Pressed brick sold in the cities of Canada and the Eastern states for $20.00 and upward per thousand and can't be sold or made here for any $10.00. I set up no claim to such liberality, but can produce a good brick in July for $8.00; August, $7.00, September $6.00, and in large quantities. Parties requiring brick late or early in the season will find it to their advantage to examine what they are buying, before placing their orders.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

The following decisions regarding supreme court was tried in Edmonton at the October sittings were received by last mail:

D. S. McKay vs. G. A. Blake—Plaintiff claimed the homestead of defendant and damages, alleging that he had paid $1,600 to one Murphy in 1882, upon defendant agreeing to do the residence duties and obtain the title for the homestead and pre-emption, and then give a half interest in both to plaintiff. Defendant contended that plaintiff had agreed to pay for the pre-emption and that he was only entitled to a half interest in the homestead as the pre-emption had been cancelled through plaintiff's neglect. Judgment was given according to the defence offered, and plaintiff's case was dismissed without costs. N. D. Beck for plaintiff. S. S. Taylor for defendant.

Jas. McDonald vs. the town of Edmonton—Plaintiff claimed damages occasioned by the town expropriating certain property on Main street, and afterwards repealing the expropriation by-law. Defendants contended that plaintiff could not obtain such damages and tendered $20, in full, without prejudice. Judgment was given for plaintiff for the amount tendered and all costs, save counsel fee. S. S. Taylor for plaintiff. N. D. Beck for defendant.

Macdonnell vs. W. S. Robertson—Action to recover $234 paid under protest to defendant acting as sheriff, plaintiff contending that the furs seized belong to him, and not to one Tupper against whom the execution was held. Judgment for plaintiff with costs. N. D. Beck for plaintiff. S. S. Taylor for defendant.

EDMONTON MILLS.

The mill of the Edmonton milling company, South Edmonton, is not yet in running order, as some small pieces of the machinery are missing, but if they arrive as expected on to-night's train grinding will begin on Saturday. Cash is being paid for wheat and it has been rushed in rapidly for the first few days. Over 2,000 bushels is now in the bins ready for grinding. The price paid runs from 35c to 60c. The mill is now complete and first class in every particular. The main building is 36x48, on the ground and is 49 feet high, from the basement to the roof. The engine house is not included in these dimensions. The basement walls are of stone and the floor of cement. The walls of the stories above are of frame covered with sheet iron. The basement contains the cockle cleaner and will be used chiefly for grain storage. Grain will be delivered at a spout in the side of the mill and will be run on to a hopper scale, which will deliver into the basement where the grain will either be stored or will be elevated to the bins or hoppers on the stories above. On the first floor are a set of large chipping stones and five double pairs of steel rolls, two and a half sets of which are corrugated and the remainder smooth. On this floor are also the machines for separating oats and barley from the wheat. On the second flat are two bran dusters, three purifiers and a bran scalper and also a number of bins for wheat storage. On the third flat are the bolts in which the flour is separated from the bran and also the double cureka grain sifter, warranted to polish the bran off the grain if required. To describe the uses to which all these several pieces of machinery are put in separating a single grain of wheat into its parts, is impossible; it is sufficient to know that they are all necessary and that all are of the most improved pattern and the best material and workmanship that money could buy. The present capacity of the mill is 75 barrels of flour per day but it will probably actually work over this amount, while the building and power is sufficient for a 200 barrel capacity. Every one wishes the Edmonton milling company the success they deserve for their enterprise in putting up a first class mill in this district which will be a direct benefit to the country and will demonstrate to the outside world that Edmonton is decidedly and distinctly within the wheat belt of the continent, and that as a wheat country it takes no second place to any in the world.
